

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
SUPERINTENDENT OF SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
FOR THE YEAR 1877.

HARRISBURG, September 20, 1877.

To His Excellency JOHN F. HARTRANFT,

Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania :

SIR: The past has been a prosperous year for the Soldiers' Orphan Schools. Little sickness and few deaths have occurred among the children. Their education has gone on in a satisfactory manner, and they have been cared for in such a way as to make them comfortable and happy. As a body, they compare favorably in physical and intellectual development, in appearance and deportment, in manly qualities, and in preparation for usefulness, with any class of children of the same age. Some of those who have left the schools at sixteen years of age, have found difficulty in securing immediate employment, but the feeling towards them in every community is so kind that this inconvenience has generally proven of a temporary character. Of the seven thousand young people educated at the Orphan Schools nearly all are at work—some engaged in the simpler kinds of hand-labor, but many at trades, on farms, or in the professions. With few exceptions they are doing well.

NUMBER IN SCHOOL.

On the 1st day of September, 1875, the number of orphan children in the care of the State was two thousand six hundred and ninety-five; on the 1st day of September, 1876, it was two thousand six hundred and forty-one, and on the 1st day of September, 1877, it was two thousand four hundred and sixty-seven, the decrease in the two years being only two hundred and twenty-eight. Nine hundred and ninety-nine children were discharged from May 31, 1876, to September 1, 1877; but seven hundred and thirty-eight were admitted to take their place. Doubtless these facts will start an inquiry as to the cause of the small decrease in the number of children in the schools, when the public had been led to expect, from the circumstances of the case and from calculations published from time to time in the reports of the Department, that the time had about come for the schools to close, and the burden of their expense to be removed. The cause that has kept the schools from decreasing, as they would otherwise have done, is the acts of 1874, 1875, and 1876, providing for admitting into the Orphan Schools the children of soldiers born since the first of January, 1866, forbidden by the act of 1867, and the children of sick and disabled soldiers, as well as the children of deceased soldiers, the latter only being admitted under preceding acts. The act of 1874 admitted only one hundred of these new classes of children, the acts of 1875 and 1876 opened the door fully, and admitted all otherwise eligible under their provisions. By this generous legislation, over one thousand four hundred children have been admitted to the several schools who would have been excluded under the earlier laws; and the schools now have an attendance of two thousand four hundred, instead of the one thousand, which they would otherwise have had, and the Department is compelled to ask for twice as much money as would have been necessary to maintain them had these laws not have been passed.

THE QUESTION OF ELIGIBILITY.

In justification of the legislation which has so greatly increased the number of children in the care of the State, and proportionally added to cost of the Orphan Schools, it should be stated that no class of children are more deserving than the class benefited by it. There is no good reason why the child of a deceased soldier, born since the first day of January, 1876, is not as worthy to receive the State's bounty as one born before that date; and the children of sick or disabled soldiers are many times in a worse condition than if their fathers had been killed in battle. The task, however, of determining the eligibility of applicants, under the late laws on the subject, has been found to be one of extreme difficulty. When first called to act in the matter, the Department, ever sympathizing with the destitute orphans of soldiers, neglected to scrutinize the applications very closely, overlooked irregularities, and admitted nearly all who applied; but, by and by, the number of applicants swelled to figures much beyond the calculations of the friends of the laws admitting them, and it was discovered that frauds had been practiced in numerous instances, and that agents were sending in the names of persons who, as soldiers' children, had no claims upon the bounty of the State. Then more strict rules were adopted, and all applications for admission were required to contain evidence that the death, sickness, or disability set forth was owing to causes connected with the war. The rules, impartially enforced, seemed over strict to the friends of some of the children for whom application was made, and the Department was subjected to some censure; but if those who complained could have examined the applications sent in, and acquainted themselves with all the circumstances connected with them, they would have approved the course of the Department in fulfilling the law, and saving the State's money for the use of those for whom it was intended. So strong, at last, became the pressure from certain quarters to break down the rules adopted by the Department, that a request was made of the Attorney General to give an interpretation of the laws relating to the subject. He did so at great length, and with much clearness. The following is the concluding part of his opinion. It sustains the action of the Department and became its guide in further proceedings :

"The conditions of admission to Soldiers' Orphan Schools are, that the children must be destitute, that their fathers must have been residents of this State and engaged in the military service of the United States, and must have died or been permanently disabled in the service. Permanent disability from any other cause will not alone fulfill the conditions."

EVIDENCE REQUIRED.

It is now clear that no child can be admitted into an Orphan School whose father's death, sickness, or disability was not caused by circumstances connected with the war; and, while always giving the applicant the benefit of the doubt, the Department insists, in the case of each, upon a line of testimony extending back from the death, sickness, or disability to the cause that produced it in the army. It is sometimes difficult to obtain such testimony, and a few deserving children may be excluded from the schools for want of it, but if all are admitted for whom application is made, hundreds will be forced into the schools for whom the State never intended to make provision, the expense of keeping them up will be greatly increased, and the people, oppressed with taxes, may at last grow impatient and demand the overthrow of the whole system in order to get rid of an evil illegally fastened upon it. It would be much more easy and pleasant for the Department to admit all applicants without question, and pay for them, if the Legislature will furnish the money, and should express a desire to have it done.

The following paragraphs are from a letter of instruction, dated May 3, issued in order that applications for admission might be accompanied with the required evidence :

"The applications for the admission of children to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, under the late acts of the Legislature, come to the Department in great numbers illegal in form, incomplete, and erroneous. These irregularities almost always lead to a tedious and sometimes annoying correspondence. Trouble to all parties concerned, it is thought, may be saved by observing the following directions.

"There are two classes :

"I. WHERE THE FATHER IS DECEASED. In this case it must be shown by satisfactory testimony that the cause of the father's death can be traced directly back to circumstances connected with the war—wounds, disease, or impaired constitution. On this point the law is imperative. The line of testimony must extend back from the time of death to the cause that produced it in the army, and statements and affidavits should be presented from the physicians who attended him at any time, but especially from those who attended him while in the service, directly after he left the service, and at the time of his death. These statements or affidavits should always contain the grounds or reasons for the opinions expressed. Weight will also be given to the testimony of the officers under whom he served, of the soldiers who knew him, or of responsible citizens acquainted with the case.

"II. WHERE THE FATHER IS STILL LIVING BUT IS SICK OR DISABLED. Here a competent physician must make a careful professional examination of the case, and under oath or affirmation, state the character of the disease or disability and the circumstances which in his judgment caused it. If thought to be traceable to circumstances connected with the war, the opinion should be strengthened by other testimony similiar to that required as above when the father is deceased; in other words, the application must contain evidence showing that the sickness or disability was caused by the war.

"In all applications it should be stated whether the father was or is in receipt of a pension; if not, why not; and if so, the number of the pension certificate should be given. The law requires all applications to be approved by the proper board of school directors. This can only be done when the board is in session, after full consideration, by a resolution placed upon the minutes. The signatures of the officers of a school board obtained without the authority of the board have no validity. They destroy the legality of the paper to which they are attached. Boards or directors are expected to inquire before approving an application as to its merits in all respects."

EXPENSES.

The system cost the past year $380,656 70, being $21,873 57 less than last year. The expenses exceeded the appropriation for the year $656 70, the deficiency being paid out of the balance of former years remaining in the treasury to the credit of the Department. It should be stated, also, that there is an account with the Phillipsburg school, now closed, still unsettled. The amount claimed is $1,327 51. The reason the claim has not been paid is because the Department considered it much in excess of the amount due.

CLOSING THE SCHOOLS IN 1879.

Unless the acts of the Legislature now in force be previously repealed, the orphan schools will close finally on the first day of June, 1879, and the children then in them must be provided for in some other way. The number of children thus disbanded will not fall short of two thousand. Their ages will be from four to sixteen. Probably one half of the whole will be over twelve. Many of them have homes of some kind to which they can go, but there is a considerable number that have neither homes to which they can go nor friends to care for them. If the act closing the schools in 1879 be repealed, and the present system be allowed to run on without regard to limitation as to time, the prospect is that there will be children of sick and disabled soldiers to care for in ten or even in twenty years from the present time. The question is not without serious difficulties from any point of view. Three courses are open to the Legislature, as follow:

1. Repeal the act closing the schools in 1879, and allow the present system to run on to its natural end. The number of children in the schools will, of course, gradually diminish. The rate of decrease will probably be about two hundred yearly, and the going out of two hundred children lessens the expense of the system about $30,000.

2. Allow the act to stand. This will close the schools, and force the children out upon the world. For many their case would then be a very sad one.

3. Modify the repealing act so as to discharge all children over a certain age, or for whom suitable homes can be procured, and then provide for the rest either in a reduced number of schools or in the permanent homes for friendless children which exist in various parts of the State.

The question involved in the closing of the schools is one wholly in the hands of the Legislature. It should, however, be settled at the earliest possible day, that all concerned may make arrangements accordingly.

ORPHAN GIRLS AT NORMAL SCHOOLS.

The $7,000 set apart for the purpose by the Legislature is used to pay the expenses of a certain number of orphan girls, who give promise of skill in the work of teaching. They are carefully selected by the faculties of the several orphan schools, and they can remain at a normal school only a single term, unless, in the opinion of its principal, they are likely to improve their advantages, and accomplish the object for which they are sent. Sixty-four young ladies attended the normal schools on this foundation the past year, several of whom graduated creditably. Most of these are now teaching in our common schools, and as many others have taken their places. Full details on this subject can be seen in "The Account with the State Normal Schools," a table found elsewhere in this report.

EXAMINATIONS.

The annual examinations and inspections were held at all the schools in the months of June and July. They were attended by the Superintendent and the inspectors, assisted by the officers of the Department of Public Instruction, and in many instances by local school officers and citizens. As a whole, the examinations were fully up to the average of other years. The buildings and furniture were generally found to be in good condition.

REPORTS.

Full details in regard to the working of the system and the condition of the schools will be found in the interesting reports of the inspectors, Colonel Cornforth and Mrs. Hutter, and in those of the principals of the several schools.

CUTS OF ORPHAN SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

There will be found, in connection with the reports of the several schools, cuts of a number of orphan school buildings. They have been taken from Paul's History, with the consent of the author.

TABULAR STATEMENTS.

The tabular statements hereunto appended contain, in statistical form, a full account of the system for the past year.

TABULAR STATEMENTS.

The following are the usual tabular statements, giving the statistics of the system and showing its working during the past year:

GENERAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

This statement shows the exact financial condition of the Department at the end of the school year.

The moneys placed at the disposal of the Department for the year ending May 31, 1877, were as follows:

State appropriation,	$380,000 00
Unexpended balance for 1876,	68,595 36
	<hr/>	$448,595 36
Expended for education, maintenance, and clothing,	$364,119 94
For soldiers' orphans at normal schools,	6,145 61
For out-door relief and by special act for Mrs. Mary A. Ketler,	1,445 34
Expenses of department,	8,945 81
	<hr/>	380,656 70
Balance in Treasury to the credit of Department,		$67,938 66

As a matter of interest, I append to the foregoing statement a list of the appropriations made by the State and the public donations received for the support of our orphan school system since its first establishment, and also one showing the expenditures of the system as exhibited in the several annual reports.

CLOTHING ACCOUNT.

The children are all clothed at the schools; but the Superintendent is required to prescribe the kind of clothing furnished them, and to see that they receive the full amount the law contemplates. The following is the account for the year. In the aggregate it will be seen that the schools expended more money for clothing than the amount received for that purpose from the State. The expenditures are all proven by proper vouchers placed on file in the Department:

SCHOOL.	Amount allowed.	Amount expended.
1. Andersonburg,	$2,150 54	$2,157 63
2. Bridgewater,	1,766 88	1,744 06

In connection with the table given above, it may be well to present the course of study as now prescribed for the Soldiers' Orphan Schools. The extent to which the several branches are to be taught in the different grades is left to the discretion of the teachers. Advancement will be measured more by thoroughness than by amount.

COURSE OF STUDY.

First Grade.—Spelling, reading, writing, and drawing on slates, oral exercises in numbers, object lessons.

Second Grade.—Spelling, reading, writing, and drawing on slates, mental arithmetic, four fundamental rules of written arithmetic, object lessons.

Third Grade.—Spelling, reading, writing, drawing, mental and written arithmetic, geography, and object lessons.

Fourth Grade.—Same as for third grade.

Fifth Grade.—Same as for fourth grade, with the addition of grammar.

Sixth Grade.—Same as for fifth grade, with the addition of history of United States.

Seventh Grade.—Spelling, reading, book-keeping, elementary algebra, geography, grammar, history of United States, physiology.

Eighth Grade.—Reading, algebra or geometry, grammar, Constitution of United States, natural philosophy of the elements of the natural sciences generally.

Vocal music, declamation, composition, and instruction in morals and manners are continued throughout the whole course.

The studies of the course are frequently reviewed as the pupils proceed. Bible classes and Sunday schools have been organized in all the schools, but sectarian instruction is carefully avoided, except where the children are all of one denomination.

In the form of object lessons, a large amount of general information is imparted and valuable instruction given in the elements of the different sciences that can be illustrated with objects.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

REPORTS OF THE INSPECTORS.

REPORT OF REV. C. CORNFORTH.

J. P. WICKERSHAM, LL. D.,

Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools :

SIR:—My annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools is herewith submitted.

1. HEALTH.—The Health of the children has been good. Uniontown is the only school where any unusual sickness prevailed. At this school, soon after the children returned from vacation, diphtheria appeared and spread till about one hundred were more or less affected by it. It proved fatal in two cases only.

2. CLOTHING.—The every day clothing of the children, especially that of the boys, is often in the latter part of spring and during the early fall months considerably worn and patched; but all have better suits in reserve. The issue of clothing is so timed, that all are comfortably clad during the severe winter weather. In every school more is expended in making the girls' best suits than is allowed for that purpose.

3. FOOD.—This has been about the same as in previous years. Every child has been allowed as much wholesome food as it desired; though the variety has not been so great as is found on the tables of some private families.

4. TABLE CLOTHS AND BUTTER KNIVES.—The former have not always been found clean, and the latter sometimes have been wanting. Nothing can be more revolting than a filthy cloth spread upon a table, or the practice of dispensing with butter knives. It is hoped that it may not again be necessary to refer publicly to these defects, so often complained of in private.

5. WORK.—The chief object aimed at, is to inculcate habits of industry. But little is or can be done, under existing regulations, towards teaching trades. The two hours, however, devoted daily to work are profitably spent. At the age of sixteen most of the girls are capable of doing all kinds of work done at the school-home, in a neat and creditable manner. The boys do farm and garden work, and generally take the entire care of their own rooms, (under proper supervision,) make their own beds, and do chores. At Dayton, Mercer, and Uniontown a shoe-shop has been in operation, in which, at each of these schools, about a dozen boys have been employed.

REV P. WILLARD,
Superintendent.

TRESSLER ORPHANS' HOME.

LOYSVILLE,
Perry Co., Pa.

The age at which they leave school and the expense of providing facilities and instructors in sufficient number and variety, render it impracticable to teach trades to any great extent, under the present organization of the Orphan School system.

6. EDUCATION.—Most of the schools have made creditable progress. The admission of the children of disabled soldiers, brought into the schools a large number of quite young pupils which lowered the average grade of scholarship. Great care should now be taken to secure the best possible talent to teach the primary classes. The topical method of recitation, when it can be used, has been recommended, though not in all cases adopted. Where this manner of reciting has been employed and supplemented by judicious questions, the best of results have been obtained. When teachers occupy most of the time allotted to recitations in talking about or explaining the lessons, but poor progress has been made. The teachers' volubility is taken advantage of: lessons are never learned, but merely glanced over. "As one is required to recite a lesson so will he study it: and as he studies it, so will it profit him." The fault is always regarded as that of the teacher and not the pupils, when classes under his tuition do not recite and read unstandingly and in a clear, distinct tone of voice. Geographies of enormous size for text books are used in too many schools and the children are required to learn a great many things hardly worth knowing. As for grammar, the same use, or abuse, is made of this study in many of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools as in other institutions. The pupils learn a great amount of stuff; they analyze and parse, with no practical results. To be able to use the English language correctly is an invaluable acquirement. But the proper use of language is something quite distinct from the scientific study of language. Speaking and writing good English is an art, and like all other arts, can be acquired only by practice. If our schools would give to this practice the time and labor now bestowed upon the study of grammar, the results would be much more practicable than at present.

From recent observations, I am, if possible, more convinced than ever before, that no institution should receive the support of the State which does not afford to the orphans the full amount of educational advantages contemplated in the act of 1867, which provides for their "education and maintenance."

7. PUNISHMENT.—Pupils can not be expelled from a Soldiers' Orphans' School, no matter what the offense may be, or how incorrigible the offender. As things are, it is not strange that cases occasionally occur which require severity. Corporal punishment is sometimes inflicted as a last resort. But the habitual use of the rod or strap for every slight offense is a brutal and brutalizing practice, which, when discovered, has been rebuked. A home-like feeling pervades most of the schools.

8. GUARDS AGAINST ABUSES.—Mothers and friends are permitted, and often do, visit the children while at school, and during these visits they eat and mingle freely with the pupils, thus affording a favorable opportunity, either by observation, or from the children themselves, to discover wrongs, if such exist; besides this, at the annual vacation, the orphans visit their friends, when it is hardly probable that they would conceal grievances, if such they have. And in addition to this, whenever complaints reach the department, from any source, they are always promptly and carefully investigated, and if well founded, the cause is removed.

9. SELF-RESPECT.—The orphans are proud of the fact that they are members of a Soldiers' Orphans' School. Those who have graduated at these institutions regard, with a justifiable pride, the State which timely befriended and aided them. If those who attend our free public schools and our heavily endowed colleges and universities, and our national military and naval schools, which are entirely supported by the general government, retain their manliness and independence of character, much more may the children of our slain and crippled patriots attend the schools which a grateful State has provided for them, without any loss of self-respect.

C. CORNFORTH,
Inspector and Examiner.

REPORT OF Mrs. E. W. HUTTER.

TO HON. J. P. WICKERSHAM, LL. D.,

General Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania:

DEAR SIR: The Soldiers' Orphan system is no longer an experiment, it is a successful reality. It has become a matter for history, and both friends and foes are now obliged to acknowledge the wisdom of educating these orphans of our fallen heroes. The money appropriated by the State for the maintenance of these orphaned children has proved to be well expended; in truth, the funds, given for the education of these children, is the best investment of money the State of Pennsylvania has ever made.

I have often spoken of these soldier's orphans as "children," but now I can speak of many of them as children no longer, but as true men and women—good citizens of our brave old Commonwealth which took them by the hand in their helplessness, and nurtured and trained them up for usefulness.

Many, many of our orphan boys are now doing business for themselves, filling positions of honor and trust, some of them on a fair road to affluence.

Many of the girls are married, and have homes of their own, where the tidy little housekeeper of our Soldiers' Orphan School now finds an appropriate sphere for her skill, for all the girls are trained in cooking, sewing, washing, scrubbing, mending, and the other "mysterious arts" of good house-wives. I have heard young men of enterprise say, "If I wish a good wife, I can find one in these Orphan Schools." Others of our girls are teaching, having availed themselves of the wise provision made to allow worthy and bright girls, in our Orphan Schools, one year at one of the State Normal Schools.

SOLDIERS' ORPHAN INSTITUTE.
Twenty-Third and Parrish Streets, Philadelphia.

The Principals of the different Normal Schools, who have had these girls under their care, generally bear testimony to their good conduct and studious habits. Nearly all the soldiers' orphans who have been admitted to the different Normal Schools have been among the best in their classes.

I might cite a great many cases to illustrate what I have been saying, but I will only mention the fact that one of our Soldiers' Orphan boys, William Kilpatrick, has gone to the far west, has taken up 180 acres of land, has settled, is making money rapidly, and I predict for him, that one of these days he will be sent to Congress to help make the laws for his country, which he loves so well. Could our law-makers but see as I see the fruits of the system, they would be convinced that this investment of money for the education of Soldiers' Orphans pays ten fold.

VISITATIONS.—A kind Providence has again enabled me during the past year, to visit the Schools with regularity. These visits have cost me many miles of travel. When it is called to mind that the Soldiers' Orphan Schools are located on both sides of the Allegheny mountains, and some of them from fifteen to twenty miles from any railway station—and that these Schools can only be reached in a private conveyance, over rough roads in all sorts of weather—it will be seen that the office of Inspector is far from being a sinecure. In all these visitations I am delighted, from time to time, to notice a marked improvement in the children.

CHANGE IN PRINCIPALS.—The School at Mt. Joy has changed its Principal—Mr. Jesse Kennedy retiring from the School, and Mr. George W. Wright, of Mercer, taking charge.

EDUCATIONAL.—Give a child a good plain English education up to the age of sixteen, together with habits of industry, and it is but seldom, even in these proverbially "hard times," that there will not be an opening for him, where a good trade may be learned by which in after years he or she may gain an honest livelihood.

To my mind it appears to be one of the encouraging signs of the times, that men of wealth and position are now putting their sons to trades. I am happy to report that one young man, whom I well know, who has inherited $175,000, I saw this summer, with sleeves rolled up, hard at work learning his trade. The mechanics and farmers are the bone and sinew of our country.

In all our Schools the educational standard, I am glad to say, is rising. I was pleased with what I saw and heard at the annual examinations.

SUGGESTION.—It would be well, as far as possible, to make the awarding of the State Diplomas to the worthy sixteeners, a feature of examination day. The public awarding of these testimonials from the State to her wards would have a pleasant effect upon the audience gathered at these examinations, and the day would be happily remembered by those who then left the School, which had indeed proved to them a "fostering mother."

Your wise plan in arranging that every child must go to school six hours, I take particular pains to see carried out by the principals, and when I do find that the six hours of school are interfered with, I insist upon it, that the law be religiously carried out, and that no child is deprived of the full six hours of schooling.

THE FOOD.—The food is of good quality, well cooked, and generally well served. Butter knives are still needed, and the table cloths are not changed often enough in some schools. A great improvement has taken place in the table service during the past few years, and the good

SANITARY CONDITION

Of the children in all these Schools is largely owing to proper food, proper exercise, and regular habits of industry.

I am glad to say that but comparatively few have been on the sick list, and a very small proportion of deaths are recorded.

Taking them as whole, there is not a happier, healthier band of children anywhere to be found, than those in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of Pennsylvania. I really feel that these Orphans appreciate the advantages afforded to them by the State.

CLOTHING.—Considering the very small amount, $25, appropriated for each child, the children are well clad. They are very comfortable. The beds and bedding are also in very good condition in nearly all the Schools. I insist upon cleanliness—in person, in clothing, and in bedding; for "cleanliness is next to godliness."

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT.—I must again mention this subject, for it is one that lies near my heart. I am opposed to corporal punishment, except in rare instances. Children are good judges of character. They read a teacher as quickly as a teacher can study their dispositions.

If children feel that the Instructor has a true desire to do them good, that the control to which they are subjected is not a matter of caprice, but a means of true education and discipline, they will nearly always submit, without any severe measures. The rule of love is, after all, the most potent. Well says Scott:

"In peace, love tunes the shepherd's reed;
In war, he mounts the warrior's steed;
In halls in gay attire is seen,
In hamlets dances on the green—
Love rules the court, the camp, the grove,
For love is Heaven, and Heaven is love."

TEACHERS.—In this connection I am glad to pay a well-deserved compliment to the Teachers in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools. They are a noble band, working in season, and out of season, giving more than the stipulated time to their charge. They are competent and conscientious.

Holidays are hailed with joy by the weary teacher in the public schools, they find these days a glad respite amid their toil.

But to the teacher in the Soldiers' Orphan School, comes no such breathing space, except in the summer vacation. Holidays are for them the very hardest of the year. They live in the midst of their charge, and if ever the technical phrase, in the school law, was realized, it is here. Surely the Soldiers' Orphan teacher does stand, "in loco parentis," in the place of a parent.

THE GRAND ARMY.—I must again speak of this noble organization, who feel so deep an interest in the welfare of the children of their fallen comrades. I have in many of my reports referred to their gallant conduct, with reference to the children in the Orphan Schools, and I would here renew my confidence in them. They have also taken a deep interest in having the children of disabled soldiers admitted into the schools.

The Grand Army men are truly posted with regard to the condition of many of their disabled comrades, and feel the great necessity of having this class of children cared for, and admitted under the kindly protection of the schools. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic urge this matter simply because they are acquainted with the facts, and would urge the members of Legislature to cast their eyes around and see the good, the incalculable good, that is being done by these schools. They would, then, not fail to pass a law explicit enough to reach every worthy case of a child of a permanently disabled soldier. There are still many of these out of the schools, that should be reached. I am heartily glad that the last Legislature did pass the appropriation for these children, and I only wish that every needy child could be placed in the schools, and be properly educated, for the State will never be impoverished by these wise appropriations, for there is a "giving that enriches, and a withholding that impoverishes."

I desire, in conclusion, to express my sincere thanks to Governor Hartmanft, for his continued interest in the Soldiers' Orphan schools.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH E. HUTTER.

EXTRACTS FROM REPORTS OF PRINCIPALS.

UNIONTOWN—A. H. Waters, Principal.

HEALTH.—The health of the school, at the present time, is very good, and has been, for several months. Shortly after vacation, diphtheria made its appearance in the school, and in a brief time there were over one hundred cases, two of which were fatal. The victims of this destroyer of innocents, were dear little children—brother and sister—Martha and John Waddington. Their death made our hearts exceedingly sad, but we could not but recognize a wonderful exemption from the hand of death in so many cases. In many places, where the disease prevailed, whole families were carried off.

EDUCATIONAL.—This sickness, beginning soon after the opening of the school, though not interfering with the regular exercises, nevertheless very perceptibly retarded the progress which we had good reason to believe would have been made. Still, regardless of this drawback, the general progress was very satisfactory. During the last few weeks of the year a large number of the advanced scholars were discharged on age. By this means the eighth grade became, at the time of the annual examination, almost extinct. This accounts for the very small number reported in the highest grade. It will also be observed from the report of the examination, that the lower grades are very large, from the fact that during the year, nearly all the new admissions were quite small children.

INDUSTRY.—The industrial feature of the system has been faithfully observed in a great variety of ways, all of which were of a practical character, and cannot but greatly benefit the children in the future. The remark is often made that the children look so large for their age, and it has been insisted that they were over sixteen years of age. This physical development is the result of healthful food, regular habits, and the two hours work, so wisely demanded as a part of each day's duties. No other schools or colleges can furnish so large a number of fine looking and fully developed physiques as are seen in our Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

MORALS.—The morals of the school are good, and the tendency is always in that direction. The exceptional cases are very rare. The best evidence of the moral influence at school is the life of the scholars when away. The most gratifying reports come of the excellent character of our graduates, and of their success in life. Regular church service has been held every Sunday morning, which included the usual exercises of singing, prayer, and reading of Scriptures, with a discourse especially adapted to the wants of children, the discourse and all the exercises embracing only little over forty minutes. Sunday school in the afternoon, and morning and evening worship every day.

IMPROVEMENTS.—During the year extensive additions have been made to the buildings, and the old furniture has, in a great measure, been replaced with new. One two-story stone house 54x21, with two wings, 18x21, has been completed, and greatly adds to the convenience and comfort. An addition to the school building, 40x30, has also been made, the second story adding that much to the boys' dormitory. Extensive improvements have likewise been made to the grounds, which have greatly beautified the place, and given it a home-like appearance.

In closing this, my eleventh annual report, I am impressed by the retrospect, of the care of our Heavenly Father over these little ones. We often feel the force of the beautiful words, "Their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in Heaven,"

To Mr. E. K. Hyndman, of the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; Mr. David McCargo, of the Allegheny Valley railroad, and Mr. William Thaw, of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, I desire to express my grateful acknowledgments for affording these children an opportunity of making their annual visit to their homes and friends free of expense. Had this generosity not been extended, some would have been deprived of this pleasure and recreation.

WHITE HALL.—J. A. Moore, Principal.

As principal, I first took charge of this school November 1, 1867, and conducted it till March 1, 1875, when I transferred my interest to Mr. John Dum, who managed it to March 1, 1877. I again assumed control since the latter date.

Excellent health has blessed the institution for the past year. With the exception of some twenty cases of measles, all of which were of a mild character, no serious sickness prevailed. The accidental scalding, June 9th, of a little girl, Minnie Killinger, aged seven, from the effects of which she died, was the cause of universal sorrow in our midst.

In the educational department, the pupils have acquitted themselves very creditably, and upheld the well earned reputation of thoroughness in their studies, so justly accorded them in former years. If they excelled in any one branch more than another, it was in crayon sketches and ornamental drawing. And in this, the following pupils deserve special mention: Masters Harry Radabaugh, William H. Cleckner, Charles Wise, Randall Hoffman, John Hughes, A. E. Bohn, and Miss Mary Fry, all of whom exhibited unusual artistic talent. Prof. Z. B. Taylor, who had charge of the educational department, sustained himself ably, and was unremitting in his efforts for the advancement of the pupils. Prof. C. Snyder and S. P. Stambaugh brought up the advanced classes, in the several branches, with credit to themselves, and the pupils, while Misses Lefever and Preisler, diligently instructed the lower grades.

The library, which in former years contained over three hundred choice volumes of standard books for youth, has not been increased; though within the past few months a number of the best periodicals in the country has been added to the files of the reading-room, and, now, over forty dailies, weeklies, and monthlies, make up an interesting feature of news-reading for the boys and girls.

On taking present charge, I did not find the clothing of the children in as good condition, neither in quality, or quantity, as it was a few years ago.

Care is taken to teach a high standard of morals, as all acquirements must be secondary to that of an unblemished character. Regular Sunday school exercises, as well as daily devotional services, are religious duties, which all are required to perform.

The usual necessary repairs, including the painting and renovation of the interior of the buildings will be made during vacation.

After having a season of rest from the responsibilities of a long term of previous management, I again enter the service, with renewed vigor, and feel fully determined to keep high the standard of Morality, Education, and Discipline.

ANDERSONBURG—W. H. Hall, Principal.

There is nothing special to note concerning the working of the school, during the year. The progress made in every department was quite satisfactory. We therefore deem it unnecessary to lengthen this report by repeating what has been said in former reports, and will only say that the regular programme for the working of the schools has this year, as well as in the past, been strictly adhered to.

BRIDGEWATER—James Stitzer, Principal.

During the past year we have worked, as usual, earnestly and faithfully in the field of labor undertaken eight years ago. Each year we strive to improve upon the preceding one. It is our constant endeavor that those consigned to our care improve, not only intellectually, but in all those graces and virtues that adorn true manhood and womanhood. In this respect our efforts have not been in vain. We notice among the students an ever increasing depth of thought, and more liberal views of life.

In educating these colored children for future usefulness we have an important task to perform. Every individual step assists to elevate the race. Our boys and girls realize this fact. It is their noblest ambition to do missionary work in the South.

The graduates of Bridgewater are eagerly sought for by the Southern Bureau of Education, and their eminent fitness for the work has been fully attested. A large number of sixteeners have taught there very successfully, and others will begin the work in the fall.

Since last September fifteen students have left us to take their places as men and women in the future that awaits them. The positions they have obtained have been honorable, and by their industry and reliability they have reflected credit not only upon themselves but upon the Institution.

EDUCATIONAL.—We have had the additional duties of a normal school during the past two years. Our normal scholars have made creditable progress and become proficient in the theory and practice of teaching. Their regular studies, in connection with the eighth grade, have been English grammar, philosophy, algebra, elocution, and Latin grammar and translation.

Especial care has been given to Essay writing. We think it not only important that the students should speak correctly, but that they should also write grammatically and clearly. A period each day is allotted to the task of composition, when subjects are assigned to the pupils by their teacher. Much credit in this department is due to the principal teacher, Mr. J. E. Cochran, under whose efficient teaching the progress has been very marked.

INDUSTRIAL.—Our boys have accomplished more outside work this summer than ever before. The farm has been kept in excellent condition. It has been thoroughly cultivated and produced an abundance of vegetables. We have inculcated the truth that industry is the only avenue to success.

CHESTER SPRINGS—Mrs. E. H. Moore, Principal.

As stated in my last report, the year preceding this was one of disappointment and trials, the result of changes and loss sustained by fire. These circumstances greatly affected the progress of the School, but measures were early taken to prepare for a good year to follow.

BUILDINGS.—The building erected to take the place of the one destroyed by fire, was ready for occupancy in September, soon after the children returned from their summer vacation. It is a three-story structure, 37x84 feet, with high ceilings, well lighted, and well ventilated. This is attached to a stone building which escaped the flames. Together they give ample space for dining-room, kitchen, store-room, male attendant's office, boys' sitting-room, and bath-room on the first floor, boys' large dormitories, steward's apartments, teachers' and male attendant's private rooms, clothes-rooms, infirmary, and store-room, on the second and third floors.

The girls' building has undergone some improvements, which add to the comfort and pleasure of its occupants.

The building used for educational purposes has been newly floored, painted, and papered.

CLOTHING.—The boys and girls are very well supplied with good clothing for every day and for Sunday.

HEALTH.—We had some cases of sickness during the year, but generally the health has been good.

INDUSTRY.—Besides the usual work of the institution, there has been a great deal to do in clearing away the debris from the burnt building, and fixing up the grounds. In this the boys have taken great interest, and have performed, with diligence and willingness, their allotted portion, as have also the girls in their department. Much of the spare time of the girls is devoted to sewing and ornamental work.

MORALS.—The improvement in the moral condition has been very gratifying. The gentle influence of teachers and others has created or developed a similar character in the children, which shows itself in their daily intercourse with each other. They are cheerful and happy, thus showing that they have confidence in their instructors, and regard them as their friends.

RELIGIOUS.—When the weather permits, the school attend Sunday morning services in the nearest church, (one mile distant.) At other times we have religious exercises in our study hall, where an hour in the morning is spent pleasantly, and, we trust, profitably to all. Sabbath school has been kept up regularly throughout the year. The "International Lesson Papers" are used.

A prayer meeting was instituted at the beginning of the term, and has been continued with increasing interest. We trust and believe that much lasting good has been effected.

EDUCATIONAL.—The educational department has been under the charge of Mr. D. A. Harman—a teacher of several years' experience in graded schools—whose kind and genial manner soon won the confidence and respect of the children. He has been assisted by Messrs. M. E. McLinn and L. A. Haffley, Misses M. E. Wickersham and E. Sharpless, and Mrs. M. E. McLinn, all teachers of experience and ability.

The school has been divided into eight grades, as formerly, but more attention has been paid to the primary branches throughout the grades, thus laying a good foundation for future study. The pupils have taken great interest in their studies, and show marked improvement, especially in composition and in the general use of language. A literary society, known as "The McCullough Literary Society," was organized in December, 1876. About sixty of the pupils have attached themselves to it. Meetings are held every Thursday evening. Much interest is manifested by the members, and great benefit is derived. Books are purchased with the funds of the society. It already has a nice library of about sixty volumes. These, together with the library of the school, and daily and weekly periodicals, furnish abundant and choice reading matter. The reading room is attractive, and many hours are spent there profitably and pleasantly in the quiet enjoyment of books and papers.

GENERAL REMARKS.—The school is now, as from its organization, controlled by a board of trustees, with M. S. McCullough, Esquire, as president, whose heartfelt interest in the children is attested by his desire and determination to make them comfortable.

The term just ended has been one of unprecedented success. The faithfulness and untiring zeal of teachers and employes have done so much to elevate the standard of the school that I cannot close this report without expressing deep appreciation of their most valuable services and entire coöperation in the great work. The same corps will remain with us, and we have every reason to believe that a pleasant year will ensue.

Prof. H. S. SWEET,
Principal and Proprietor.

HARFORD SCHOOL.

HARFORD,
Susquehanna Co., Pa.

DAYTON—Hugh McCandless, Principal.

SANITARY.—The health of the school during the past year has been good, there being but one serious case of sickness. About two weeks after the children returned from vacation, Flora L. Metcalf took diphtheria, and, after an illness of four days, died on the 16th day of September. We had five cases of inflammatory rheumatism, and most of the children had mumps, but none were so ill as to be kept from school for more than two or three days. With a single exception, all are now in perfect health.

INDUSTRY.—In this department there has been little or no change. Twelve boys, under the supervision of W. P. Oberlin, have done all the shoe mending and made all the every day boots and shoes needed in the institution. In addition to this the boys have done the usual amount of farm work, and the girls have performed their accustomed routine of household duties.

EDUCATIONAL.—During the year the majority of the children have made progress worthy of commendation. This year special attention has been paid to map drawing and painting in water colors.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS.—As to the course of instruction pursued in reference to these, we have nothing new to report, but as regards the morals of the school, the cheerfulness, obedience, and morality of the children, the school has never before stood so high since the writer took charge of it.

MISCELLANEOUS.—Repairs have been made where necessity demanded. We have added to our library some twenty-five or thirty new books.

In concluding this very brief report, it is but just to say that the success of the school is very largely due to the labors of my assistants. Prof. M. L. Thonnhurst has had charge of the educational department, and was assisted by Mr. J. E. Frantz and Misses M. Marshall, U. P. Marshall, M. K. Houston, and Lizzie and Ada McCandless for part of the year, and Miss S. Frantz for the entire year. The other departments were in charge of Messrs. E. Morrow and W. P. Oberlin; Misses M. Dill, N. S. Morrow, N. Gaston, M. Oliver; Mrs. E. McCutcheon and Mrs. McCandless. Vocal music was taught by Mr. B. S. Pontius.

The thanks of the principal are due to the above for their untiring efforts and the faithful performance of their several duties.

HARFORD—H. S. Sweet, Principal.

The progress of this institution for the past year has been all that we could expect. The children returned promptly after their annual vacation, and immediately resumed their various duties, especially their work in the school room, evincing by their conduct, the feeling that they had returned to their home, and that they had a work for themselves to do. This contented spirit has pervaded the institution throughout the year, not a single absence without permission having occurred. The deportment in the school-room has been most gratifying and exemplary. Self government having been insisted upon in the past, now exhibits its fruits in the conduct of the children, as they now feel that it devolves upon themselves to maintain order and to sustain a good reputation for the school.

The principles of good morals and self-reliance, instilled into the minds of the pupils while with us, enables them, when arriving at the age of sixteen, to obtain and fill positions of trust and honor. Many are teaching with no further preparation than that afforded them while in this school.

The sanitary condition has been better than ever before, there having been no case of serious illness, and but few cases have been sufficient to detain the pupils from school for any length of time.

The educational department, under the care of M. Kasson, assisted by the teachers long connected with the school, shows the beneficial result of employing teachers acquainted with the peculiarities of the different pupils under their control, as very effective work has been accomplished.

The study of English literature was introduced at the beginning of the year.

The members of the seventh and eighth grades are prepared to enter the scientific course of most of our colleges.

As a result of the preparation for the Centennial, the girls devote much of their leisure time to fancy needle-work, and in making home adornments, and are becoming quite proficient.

The Grand Army of the Republic, together with the Veteran Organization, have rendered especial favors upon two occasions; the laying of the corner-stone of the Soldiers' Monument at Montrose and at their annual encampment, not only providing transportation, but furnishing a sumptuous dinner for the whole school. The deportment of the children received favorable notice from the county papers on these occasions.

LINCOLN INSTITUTION.—Margaret Y. Clay, Secretary, Board of Managers.

SIR:—The Board of Managers of the Lincoln Institution present this their eleventh annual report, with renewed expressions of satisfaction for the work done during the past year.

There were during the year a total of ninety-four boys in the Institution, all engaged in some trade or employed by mercantile houses during the day. Their evenings are devoted to study and reading. They give universal gratification to their employers, who testify to their industry, honesty, and high moral bearing.

The night school is under the immediate supervision of the board of council, who report the decided improvement the boys have made in their several departments of study. The June examinations were well conducted; and showed a marked progress and thoroughness made by the pupils in their last scholastic year.

The health of the inmates of the Institution has been most excellent, very few cases of sickness having occurred. There were two deaths during the year. Thomas Cummings, aged fifteen years, died from the results of an accident while bathing; and Albert H. Perkenpine, who died of typhoid fever, in his eighteenth year. Both were promising lads and much beloved by their employers and schoolmates.

The boys visited the Centennial exhibition twice in a body; and attracted great praise for their soldierly deportment on "Pennsylvania Day," when they formed part of the guard of the Governor as he passed into the State buildings.

In the educational exhibit made by the State at the Centennial, the Lincoln boys made a very creditable display, both of school-work and of the separate trades which they are learning.

MANSFIELD—F. A. Allen, Principal.

No material changes have been effected in our school during the past year. The progress made has been commensurate with the expenditure of effort. Entire satisfaction has not been attained. We do not look for this while dealing with frail human nature. Therefore, no great disappointment has been experienced.

The new recruits, sent in to us since September last, are younger than those formerly sent. Their scholastic attainments are less. Hence a lowering of the standard of scholarship. The physical condition of these children is much below the average of those heretofore sent us. This is so strikingly apparent that it is commented upon by all who have to do with them. But a marked improvement has taken place with them during the short period they have been with us. This is mainly due to the enforcing of regular habits, and a simple and wholesome diet. If the thousands of parents who have feeble, sickly children, would but learn the lesson these schools teach so unmistakably, touching the physical training of children, the world would be wiser and better for it.

We have experienced rather more than our usual amount of sickness. Diphtheria has been quite prevalent with us, though in its milder form. Only one death has occurred from any cause. Aside from the above-mentioned disease, our school has enjoyed, to a great degree, excellent health.

No change in the manner of teaching. Every year only the more firmly convinces us that the "new departure" is the true way. Each teacher has a special department of labor or branch to teach, and passes from room to room at the close of every recitation period.

We have found very great benefits arising from the study of literature, in the different grades. While teaching authors, pupils are required to commit extracts from their writings, thus giving them the best material for after-thought, and affording a most excellent discipline. It also adds a much greater interest in, and a greater love for, the reading of better periodicals and books than the general market affords.

Through the kindness of the Episcopalians of the place, we have held our Sunday school at 9 A. M., in their church. The most of our teachers in this school have been volunteers from the Normal School. And most efficient labor have they given us. It gives me great pleasure, in this public manner to thank them most heartily for their very acceptable work.

The work of the farm has been much more profitable to all concerned. We have more thoroughly systematized the work, and have added incentives to greater excellence in the kind and quality of work. We have endeavored to teach that labor was not only necessary, but honorable, and that skilled or educated labor will always pay best.

As a whole, our school may be said to have passed pleasantly and smoothly through the year, even with less friction than formerly. This is due to the fact of a continuance of the same employés, in the main. We not only believe in, but practice, "civil service," and adopt to the letter the doctrine of the "survival of the fittest."

McALLISTERVILLE—Jacob Smith, Proprietor.

In submitting this annual report for the first whole year as proprietor, I would acknowledge the goodness and mercies of a kind Providence in guarding our home from sickness and death, and to Him ascribe all praise for whatever success has attended our united labors.

EDUCATIONAL.—It was my good fortune in January last to secure the services of Professor William Bogle and wife, for a number of years connected with the Mercer Soldiers' Orphan School,) the former as principal, the latter to take charge of the primary department. In entering upon their duties, they introduced, and I am happy to announce, successfully carried through, many needed reforms. The school was reclassified, the time given to each recitation extended, and the movement of classes so arranged that but little confusion resulted therefrom. For the success accompanying their efforts, I respectfully refer you to those representing the Soldiers' Orphan School department at our recent examination.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS.—The moral deportment of our children is good, when it is remembered that many of them have lost father and mother, and previous to their admittance here, were ignorant of moral restraint. Devotional exercises are held morning and evening, when frequently one of the pupils reads a portion of Scripture of their own selection. A deep interest is felt in the Sabbath-school work. The children are supplied with "Lesson Leaves," and it is a pleasure to see with what zeal and cheerfulness they devote their spare time to the preparation of their lessons. During the last year we have not had regular preaching at the school. The children, however, attend, almost ever Sabbath, one of the churches in the village.

INDUSTRY.—Each department is under the control of a competent person, in which the girls are taught all kinds of work done at the school, many of them becoming experts with the needle, and in doing general housework. The boys are required to do much of the work on the farm, and many of them display considerable taste and skill in the management of small parcels of ground given them for their exclusive supervision. I am very particular to have the children instructed well in all things pertaining to the house and farm.

DISCIPLINE.—Under the present management, radical changes have been made in the methods used to enforce discipline. Corporal punishment, so long and faithfully applied with but slight beneficial results, has been almost entirely banished; and in its stead the esteem, affection, and obedience of these fatherless little ones is gained by love. The results thus far are highly gratifying, and fully appreciated by all.

CLOTHING.—No means have been spared during the year to have our children well and comfortably clothed.

GENERAL REMARKS.—My corps of assistants is selected with care; and whenever practicable, it is my desire to retain those having a knowledge of the workings of an institution of this kind, being convinced by sad experience that the fewer changes made the better for the school. We are now having our vacation, during which I purpose building a new wash-house and making other improvements for the comfort and convenience of the children.

MERCER—G. W. Wright, Manager.

In behalf of the Mercer Soldiers' Orphan School Company, I submit the following report for the year ending May 31st, 1877:

The year through which we have just passed has been one of unprecedented labor and anxiety on the part of all concerned. Over one hundred pupils were admitted during the year, many of whom had not previously enjoyed the advantages of a good school, and consequently required much care in grading and training. Our teachers generally have labored with a zeal worthy of the profession, and deserve much credit for their untiring efforts. The employes, also, have been faithful, and have taken a deep interest in the institution. There was considerable sickness in the school soon after the commencement of the term, brought by returning pupils, which retarded the progress of the school for some time, but notwithstanding all difficulties there has been effectual work done, and when we reflect upon what has been passed through during the year we cannot but feel a deep sense of gratitude to God for His goodness and mercy.

There has been a manifest improvement in the morals of the children, which we are glad to notice. Quite a number of the children connected with the church during the year, and have exercised a wholesome influence on others. The children attend Sabbath school regularly, and there is congeniality and home-like feeling among the pupils generally.

During the year the pupils have been studious, and have made substantial progress in all the branches pursued. Considerable attention has been paid to general instruction in all the classes. The teachers have aimed to infuse into the minds of the pupils the importance of earnest work and study, and have endeavored to teach them how to think, what to think about, and to consider the great objects and responsibilities of life; to make of them true men and women, prepared to battle successfully with the realities of life, that the people of the Commonwealth may be proud of them as its wards in years to come.

The higher grades were instructed in algebra, natural philosophy, physiology, United States history, rhetoric, book-keeping, geometry, and Latin.

The discipline has not been rigid or severe, yet the obedience has been prompt, willing, and cheerful. We have endeavored to teach the children to do right because it is right, and not from fear of punishment; hence we have been able to give them greater liberty and more privileges than we otherwise could have done. To make the school a "home" in every respect has been our aim, and we feel that, to some extent at least, we have been successful.

A fine chapel was built during the year. It is a substantial wood structure, 44 by 68 feet, two stories high—the lower story being used as a chapel, with two recitation rooms at one end, separated from the main part by a partition which can be removed at pleasure; the second story is used as a dormitory for the boys. The building and furniture in chapel and school-rooms cost the company about $3,500.

The grounds and buildings are in good condition—better, perhaps, than ever before, and we have an abundance of room to accommodate four hundred children.

The children have been taught to do all kinds of work connected with the institution, and have shown considerable aptness in the several departments. All kinds of house work connected with the institution is done, neatly and well, by all the girls old enough to engage in such work. The boys all do their work better and more systematically than in former years. Those who have gone out from the institution to engage in active life on their own responsibility have given an experience to the boys remaining in school that has done them much good, and has taught them to make ready for the battle which awaits them.

We are deeply indebted to the ministers and good people of Mercer and vicinity for their frequent visits to the school and many acts of kindness. With these encouragements and God's blessing, we cannot but succeed in the future.

GEORGE W. WRIGHT,
Principal

MOUNT JOY SCHOOL.

MOUNT JOY,
Lancaster County, Pa.

MOUNT JOY.—Jesse Kennedy, Principal.

The educational department has been under the care of Mr. George W. Geiger, who has ably and impartially discharged the duties devolving upon him. He has been assisted by Mr. Joseph H. Martin, and Misses Mary E. Buckwalter, Sallie E. Culp, and Ella A. Kline, teachers of experience and unquestioned ability. By their united and untiring efforts, they have advanced the school, as a whole, to a higher standard of proficiency than it had attained in any former year. The thoroughness of our instruction has enabled twelve of our scholars to graduate in our normal schools by one year's attendance.

Believing a practical education to be deficient without a knowledge of general information, we have, in addition to the regular course of instruction prescribed, made this study a specialty, and have met with marked success.

Quite a number of our girls have been taking instrumental music lessons, and some of them play with a remarkable degree of ease and aptness.

We are sorry to be obliged to notice the deaths of two of our boys. The first was caused by hereditary consumption; the second by accident on the railroad. Both of them died at their homes, and as they were passing away, their words and expression gave evidence that a "better country" awaited their coming.

Otherwise the health of the school has been good, with the exception of one case of hemorrhages. Our hearts ascend in thankfulness to our kind Father, who has so gently conducted us through the uncertainties of another year.

Our discipline, while rigid, has been so seasoned with moral forces as to produce a general home feeling among the children.

We are happy to report that an uninterrupted social feeling has characterized our entire faculty, which had much to do with the moral standing of the school.

Deep interest is taken in the Sabbath school, by both faculty and scholars. The usual devotional exercises are daily observed, and a general prayer-meeting is held every Wednesday evening.

The children who have been discharged from this school, by reason of reaching the prescribed age of sixteen years, are, as a rule, following honorable callings, and in most cases with fair prospects of success.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' INSTITUTE—Dr. and Mrs. A. Harshberger, Principals.

During the first two months of the school year that has just closed the great Centennial was still going on. Consequently a great many visitors from our own and foreign lands came to see the institutions. Among the distinguished men who visited us were Mr. Hitchcock, the Commissioner from the Sandwich Islands, and Colonel Juan J. Marin, Spanish Royal Commissioner, and judge of awards; also the educational and industrial visiting committee from France. These gentlemen expressed themselves surprised and delighted that the orphans of our fallen soldiers are so well cared for. Again and again was the Soldiers' Orphans' School system of Pennsylvania lauded in our hearing by the strangers to the Centennial city.

Pennsylvania day, September 28th, 1876, is one that will long, long be remembered by us all. As was most fitting, the inmates of the Soldiers' Orphans' Institute and Northern Home turned out en masse to the exhibition. The children numbered about four hundred—were under the care of their teachers and other officers. These "wards of the State" attracted a great deal of attention. They were neatly attired—the girls in white dresses, with "red, white and blue" sashes—and the boys in cadet uniform. The entire body rendezvoused at the Pennsylvania Educational Hall, which they always considered "headquarters," and thence marched to the Pennsylvania State building, being escorted by two companies of the Grand Army of the Republic. At the State building they were reviewed by Governor Hartranft and yourself.

The anniversary in May, in the Academy of Music, as usual, was a brilliant affair. Decoration day was duly kept, the orphans of our school assisting Post No. 8, Grand Army of the Republic, in the planting of flags and strewing of flowers in Glenwood cemetery, upon the graves of the heroes of the late war.

The Fourth of July was celebrated in an appropriate manner. The larger boys visited the Permanent Exhibition, through the liberality of George W. Childs, Esquire. The Wednesday before the close of school, the entire body of children were admitted to this Permanent Exhibition through the kind invitation of the management. It was a good day, and one fraught with many a useful lesson. The exhibitors took great pains to explain the points of interest to the children. They have our hearty thanks.

But the great day of all the year, to which both teachers and pupils look forward with unabating interest, is the annual examination in July, when the deeds of the year are all called into a reckoning.

This year the Soldiers' Orphan Institute was honored with the presence of four State officers, viz; Inspectors, Rev. C. Cornforth and Mrs. E. W. Hutter, and Deputy Superintendents Hauck and Lindsay. Besides these, a great company of the managers, trustees, and other distinguished gentlemen and ladies of Philadelphia, graced the occasion with their presence.

The examination began at 9 A. M. and was continued during the entire day, July 13th, 1877. The examinations of the various classes were conducted chiefly by the State examiners. The pupils acquitted themselves with great credit. One noticeable feature of the day was the quiet, mannerly deportment of the pupils, both in the class-rooms and while at liberty on the grounds.

From two to three o'clock p. m., the little Kinder Garten class, under the care of Miss Walk, was exercised. The hour seemed to be a very happy one for the little children, their teacher and the audience.

In the evening all assembled in the chapel, where appropriate exercises filled up the time. Singing by the children, music by the band, and speeches by the State Examiners and others, and the awarding of diplomas and a copy of Col. James L. Paul's History of the Soldiers' Orphans to the worthy "Sixteeners." The whole scene was a bright and happy one!

After the exercises in the chapel, a drill by the cadets. In this connection we may mention that several of the "boys" of our school, who had been honorably discharged at the age of sixteen, were with the first division, Philadelphia troops, in their late campaign to quell the riot at Pittsburg and Scranton. The drill received at the orphan school fitted them to defend their State that had educated them.

We regret to record the death of Hon. Matthew Baird, a firm friend of our institute, and the patron of the Matthew Baird cornet band. Also, we have lost, by death, three of our oldest lady managers: Miss Susan O'Neil, Mrs. R. T. Shepherd, and Mrs. Worrell.

Several important repairs and improvements have been made during the year. A well rewalled and made available for cool water for the children to drink, repaving of laundry yard, and repairs to the main house.

The Sabbath school continues in a flourishing condition.

Several of our girls have been admitted to a State normal school for the ensuing term.

There has been but little change in the corps of our officers and teachers, and all seem ready to buckle on the armor this fall for another year of solid work for the good of their charge.

A LIST OF "SIXTEENERS," IN THE YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1877.

Below will be found a list of the children who arrived at the age of sixteen during the past year, and were discharged.

There is no better way in which the system could exhibit its fruits.

IV. OFFICIAL CIRCULARS.

Official Circular, No. 1.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT, ORPHAN SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, June 1, 1871.

To the Principals and Managers of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes:

By an act of the Legislature, approved May 27, 1871, the undersigned has been entrusted with the supervision of the soldiers' orphans of the Commonwealth, with whom, from the present date, all official business appertaining thereto must be transacted.

While this delicate trust has not been sought, coming, as it is believed it does, with the good will of all concerned, it is assumed with a full sense of its importance, and the most sincere desire to administer it in such a way as to secure the orphans of our dead heroes the greatest measure of good possible from a benefaction, which, in the breadth of its liberality, has no parallel in the history of this or any other country. In this noble work I hope to have the active and earnest coöperation of all concerned in the management of the trust, and the sympathy of the public.

The immediate attention of those interested is asked to the following special directions:

1. All clothing for the pupils in the several institutions will hereafter be furnished by the principals or managers of the same, subject as to its kind, quality, and quantity, to the control of the Superintendent. Accounts for clothing, when presented for settlement, must be accompanied by sworn statements as to their accuracy.

2. All clothing to be purchased for the quarter commencing with the date hereof, will be substantially the same, in kind, as heretofore. Such changes as it shall be found advisable to make will be made known in time to carry them into effect at the beginning of the quarter, commencing September next.

3. All children now in the schools over sixteen years of age, and all others, as soon as they reach that age, must be promptly discharged. No exception can be made, under the present law, in favor of those who have been in the schools a less time than two years.

4. The vacation for the present year will commence on Friday, July 28, and continue until Friday, September 8. The annual examination at the several schools will take place during the two or three weeks preceding the vacation.

5. A meeting of principals, managers, inspectors, and others interested in the Soldiers' Orphan schools will be called at an early day at Harrisburg.

6. The Superintendent expects to be able to visit every institution in the State in which there are soldiers' orphans under instruction before the coming vacation. Having prepared, in 1864, at the request of Governor Curtin, the original plan for the education and maintenance of soldiers' orphans, after which, in their main features, all subsequent plans have been modeled, he feels not only a formal or public, but a deep, personal interest in the success of the system, and will do all in his power to promote it.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

Official Circular, No. 2.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOLS, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, June 27, 1871.

To the Principals and Managers of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes :

The present school year will end on Friday, the 28th of July.

The annual examinations will take place at the several schools and homes during the two or three weeks preceding that date. Each examination may continue as many days as those directly controlling it shall deem advisable, but the time of holding the examination must be made to include the day of visitation by the State officers named below.

The examinations will be conducted mainly by the principals or superintendents and teachers of the respective schools and homes, who, at their close, will report to this department, in the form prescribed, the names of the pupils in the different grades and in each class of the same, and the relative standing of each pupil.

For the purpose of witnessing, to the greatest practicable extent, the examinations, and learning the degree of faithfulness with which the work of instruction has been carried on, representatives from this department will be present at the several institutions on certain days, as follows :

The Superintendent.

At Children's Home, Lancaster, Monday morning, July 17.

At Northern Home, Twenty-third and Brown streets, Philadelphia, Tuesday, July 18.

At Lincoln Institution, 308 South Eleventh street, Philadelphia, Wednesday, July 19.

At Church Home, Philadelphia, Wednesday, July 19.

At Bridgewater, Bucks county, Thursday, July 20.

At Chester Springs, Chester county, Saturday, July 22.

At Mt. Joy, Lancaster county, Monday afternoon and evening, July 24.

6 SOL. ORP.

While in Philadelphia, the Superintendent will also make brief visits to the other institutions in which there are soldiers' orphans.

Inspector Rev. C. Cornforth.

At P. and A. Orphan Asylum, Allegheny city, Tuesday, July 18.
At Uniontown, Fayette county, Wednesday, July 19.
At Episcopal Church Home, Lawrenceville, Thursday, July 20.
At Home for Friendless, Allegheny city, Thursday, July 20.
At Phillipsburg, Beaver county, Friday, July 21.
At Dayton, Armstrong county, Monday, July 24.
At Mercer, Mercer county, Wednesday, July 26.
At Titusville, Crawford county, Thursday, July 27.
At Mansfield, Tioga county, Friday, July 28.

James L. Paul, Esq., Chief Clerk Orphans' Schools.

At Andersonburg, Perry county, Tuesday, July 25.
At Loysville, Perry county, Wednesday, July 26.
At York, York county, Thursday, July 27.

Deputy Superintendent Houck.

At Womelsdorf, Berks county, Monday, July 24.
At White Hall, Cumberland county, Tuesday, July 25.
At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, Wednesday, July 26.
At Harford, Susquehanna county, Thursday, July 27.

Rev. O. H. Miller, School Department.

At Cassville, Huntingdon county, Tuesday, July 25.
At McAlisterville, Juniata county, Thursday, July 27.

Samuel Glenn, County Superintendent, Butler County.

At St. Paul's Orphan Home, Butler, Tuesday, July 25.

The Superintendent will probably attend some of the examinations with Messrs. Houck, Miller, and Paul. He has now arranged to be at White Hall and McAlisterville.

Mrs. E. E. Hutter, lady inspector, will be present at a number of the examinations, as will also, it is hoped, His Excellency Governor Geary, and the several members of the Board of State Charities.

It is hereby recommended—

1st. That the examinations be so arranged at the different schools and homes as to close on the day the State authorities have appointed to be present.

2d. That the examination be public.

3d. That superintendents, directors, and teachers of common schools, members of superintending committees, members of the Legislature, judges of the courts, clergymen, editors, and citizens who are interested in the noble work of educating our orphan children, of the proper localities, be specially invited to attend and take part in the examinations.

4th. That every arrangement be made beforehand necessary to facilitate the examinations.

The regulations heretofore issued from this department, concerning vacation, remain in force, and must be conformed to by all concerned.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

HARRISBURG, August 14, 1871.

To the Principals and Managers of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes:

Under the provisions of the appropriation bill of 1871, the amounts allowed the several institutions for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of soldiers' orphan children for the present year, are as follows :

To the institutions named below, $150 will be allowed for each child above ten years of age, and $115 for each child of less than that age, viz : Dayton, Philipsburg, White Hall, Uniontown, Cassville, McAlisterville, Mount Joy, Harford, Mansfield, Titusville, Chester Springs, Bridgewater, Emaus, Andersonburg, Mercer, Soldiers' Orphan Institute, and Lincoln Institution.

To the several homes and asylums that have never received any appropriations from the State, $100 will be allowed for each child of legal age.

To the several homes and asylums that have received, at any time, appropriations from the State, $115 will be allowed for each child of legal age.

It will be seen upon examination that these allowances are in strict accordance with the act, and they cannot be departed from. The authorities of the several institutions must govern themselves accordingly in making out their bills.

A full account of all purchases for clothing must be kept, and also of all clothing issued to each child, but these accounts need not be presented to this department for settlement until near the close of the year.

No bill will be approved and placed in the hands of the Auditor General for payment until the institution presenting it has on file all reports due the department.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

Official Circular, No. 4.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOLS, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, September 15, 1871.

To the Trustees of Soldiers' Orphans Receiving Partial Out-Door Relief:

Your attention is respectfully called to the following information and directions for managing your trust:

1. Under the appropriation act of 1871, no expense for orphan children receiving partial out-door relief, incurred prior to June 1, 1871, can be now paid without a special future appropriation. Such bills, however, remaining unsettled by the late administration, may be sent to this department, where they will be filed to await the action of the Legislature.

2. Payments of this kind will be made hereafter on the first of September and the first of March, each for six months, the first six months ending December 1, and the second June 1.

3. Before payments are made, the department will require the blanks in the prescribed form of report to be filled up and forwarded, accompanied with a receipted bill for the amount agreed upon.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

Official Circular, No. 5.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOLS, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, September 15, 1871.

To the Principals and Managers of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes:

Your attention is respectfully called to the following directions:

I. CLOTHING.

1. General Rules in Regard to Clothing.—First, the clothing for the respective sexes must be uniform in each institution. Second, the boys' clothing must be military in style. Third, the clothing must be seasonable, good in kind, and sufficient in quantity for Sunday and every day wear and for weekly changes.

2. Kinds of Clothing.—In the matter of the kinds of clothing, much is left to the judgment and taste of the authorities of the different schools and homes; but they are expected to provide their children with at least one suit in substantial conformity to the following suggestions:

For BOYS, a West Point gray cadet suit, consisting of pants, with black stripes down the sides; jacket, buttoned to the neck, American Eagle or Pennsylvania State buttons; cap, gray, to match suit. Or, dark navy blue suit, consisting of pants and jacket, made same as described in gray suit; cap, dark blue, to match suit. Or, dark blue jacket and light Kersey pants, made in military style, with cap, dark blue, to match suit.

For GIRLS, in winter, a dress of black alpaca-poplin, trimmed with blue or red; or alpaca-poplin, wine color, blue or plaid, trimmed with same material as quillings or bands; black cloth coat; winter hat. In summer, a dress of white drilling, pink calico, gingham or delaine; straw hat, neatly trimmed, and summer sacque.

3. Price List for Making Clothing and Mending Shoes.—Until further orders, the prices allowed for making clothing and mending shoes will be as follows:

FOR GIRLS.		FOR BOYS.
Sunday dresses,	60 cents.	Pants, winter,	65 cents.
Every-day dresses,	40 "	Jackets, winter,	1 10 "
Chemises,	15 "	Pants, summer, lined,	40 "
Drawers,	15 "	Pants, summer, unlined,	30 "
Aprons, low,	8 "	Jackets, summer, lined,	50 "
Aprons, with bodies,	16 "	Jackets, summer, unlined,	40 "
Skirts,	20 "	Shirts, muslin,	35 "
Skirts, with bodies,	30 "	Shirts, woolen,	30 "

FOR MENDING SHOES.

For pair of half-soles,	60 cents.	For each patch,	7 cents.
For pair of heel-taps,	20 "	For each seam sewed,	3 "
For each toe-tap,	10 "

No allowance will be made for mending clothing.

4. Mode of Keeping Clothing Accounts.—The authorities of the several schools will have to keep two clothing accounts: First, an INVOICE ACCOUNT, in which must be kept the amounts paid for clothing, and the transportation of clothing, together with the charges made for making clothing and mending shoes. Vouchers must be kept corresponding with the amounts paid out. These amounts, at the end of the year, must equal $25, multiplied by the average number of children in the institution above ten years of age, plus $19 16, multiplied by the average number of children below that age. Second, an ISSUE ROLL, in which each child is carefully charged with every article issued to him, and all the shoe-mending he has had done. The issue roll must show that the average value of the clothing and mending of each child in the institution above ten years of age, for the year, is $25; and of that for each child below ten years of age, it is $19 16. Of the children above ten years of age, each child must receive at least twenty-one dollars ($21) worth of clothing; and of those below ten years, each child must receive at least sixteen dollars ($16) worth. Copies of the invoice account, with vouchers and bills, and of the issue rolls, must be forwarded to the department at the close of the last quarter of the year. These need not be in duplicate.

These directions, as to clothing, except so far as the general rules relating to it and the kinds suggested are concerned, have no reference to the homes which receive only $100 and $115 for the instruction and maintenance of each child. In their case, the children must be clothed subject to inspection, and no special accounts for clothing need be kept or rendered.

II. RULES RELATING TO CHARGES.

1. Children discharged or transferred may be charged for until they leave the institution.

2. No charge can be allowed for children until they actually enter the institution.

3. No allowances for pay can be made for children entering an institution without orders.

4. Children who are absent more than thirty days, either with or without leave, except at the regular vacations, are not to be charged for without the consent of the State Superintendent.

III. FOOD.

No regular bill of fare will be prescribed. All the schools and homes will certainly provide food for their children that is proper in variety, healthy in kind, and sufficient in quantity, and nothing more is desired.

IV. SLEEPING APARTMENTS.

Care must be taken that the sleeping apartments are all well ventilated and not over-crowded. The beds and bedding must be clean and comfortable.

V. INDUSTRIES.

As soon as possible there should be organized in all the schools and homes some means of giving systematic employment, both in winter and summer, to the children during working hours. Mere JOB or CHORE work does not furnish the required industrial discipline. The work done will form a feature at the next annual examination.

VI. MILITARY TACTICS.

Drills in military tactics must be systematically kept up in all the institutions where there are boys over ten years of age. The boys in all the schools will be expected to be proficient in the "School of the Company" by the next examination.

VII. COURSE OF STUDY.

The branches now taught in the different grades will be continued, with the addition of object lessons in the first four grades, and grammar in the eighth grade. The extent to which each branch shall be studied in the several grades is left to the teachers. Progress will be measured more by the proficiency of the pupils in the several branches, as exhibited to the inspectors and at the examination, than by the number of books or parts of books they have passed over. Due attention should be given to vocal music, the writing of original compositions, and drawing.

VIII. INSTRUCTION.

The teachers employed should be skillful. Special attention should be paid to the manner of teaching the younger pupils. Above all, the children should be trained morally. They should live in a moral atmosphere. The example of noble Christian lives should be constantly before them. Every day should witness their rising to a higher moral plane. The end that should be kept constantly in view by all connected with the education of these soldiers' orphans, is to make them, not so much good scholars, as good citizens and good men and women.

I shall expect to learn very soon that a well organized Sabbath school has been established in connection with every school and home in the State where that good work has not been already done.

IX. REPORTS.

The department will hereafter require reports as follows :

1. Weekly and quarterly reports, for which printed forms will be furnished.

2. An annual instruction report, similar to the one made the present year.

3. An annual report in writing, giving an account of the progress and improvement made during the year, and the sanitary, industrial, educational, and moral condition of the institution, together with the history of individual children, so far as may be necessary, to show the character of the work done, and any additional information that it may be desirable to communicate. Abstracts of these reports will be printed in the annual report of the department.

All reports due the department from any institution, must be on file in the form required before its bills are approved.

X. CHILDREN WHO HAVE LEFT SCHOOL.

The authorities of the different institutions are enjoined to use their best efforts to obtain suitable employment for the children leaving school at the age of sixteen, to keep up a correspondence with them, to bring them back to the institution at stated times ; in short, to be fathers to the fatherless, that the noblest benefaction ever made by a Christian State may produce its richest fruit.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

Official Circular, No. 6.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT, ORPHAN SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, March 11, 1872.

To the Principals and Managers of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools :

1. Your bills for the current quarter, the last quarter of the present school year, must be accompanied with the required clothing accounts. These will consist, first, of an INVOICE ACCOUNT, presenting a full detailed statement of all purchases of clothing and all moneys paid out or charges made on account of clothing during the year. This statement should be plainly written on one side of sheets of foolscap paper. An inventory of the stock on hand should be appended. Second, of an ISSUE ROLL, in which each child is carefully charged, at their cost prices, with the articles he has received. Forms will be furnished for this purpose. In this connection, attention is called to paragraph 4, of Circular No. 5.

2. The annual written and instruction reports now required from each institution must be on file here by the 1st of August. The written reports, if not exceeding in length three pages of the report of the Department, will be published in full. These reports should give brief accounts of the progress and improvement made during the year, and the sanitary, industrial, educational, and moral condition of each institution, and any additional information that may be deemed desirable.

3. Each school will be expected to furnish, with the reports named above, as complete a list as it is practicable to prepare, of all children who have gone from it at the age of sixteen, and stating how they are now employed in the manner of the partial lists contained in the last annual report of this department.

4. All the schools will be visited and carefully inspected by both the inspectors during the current quarter, and no further bills from any one will be paid unless a paper, signed by these officers, shall be placed on file, certifying that it is in all respects in a satisfactory condition; or in the absence of such paper, unless by personal inspection, the Superintendent is convinced that the institution is managed in accordance with the requirements of law and the directions of this Department.

5. A beautiful diploma for the "Sixteeners" is now being engraved, and it is expected will be ready for delivery in a few weeks.

6. The annual examinations at the several schools will take place this year about the usual time. Details will be made known in another circular.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOLS, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, PA., May 9, 1872.

Principal Soldiers' Orphan School at :

DEAR SIR: Under an act of the recent session of the Legislature, I propose to place, near the first of September next, about fifteen soldiers' orphans of proper age and qualifications in the State Normal School, with the design of training them for teachers.

My purpose in writing is to ask you to make this fact as widely known among those who are or have been pupils at your school as may be practicable, and report to this Department, from time to time, the names of such competent persons as may desire to avail themselves of the opportunity so generously offered them by the State of preparing for a noble profession. All names sent in should be accompanied with testimonials of scholarship, character, and fitness.

The conditions on which pupils will be admitted into the normal schools on this foundation are the following:

1. They must be over sixteen years of age.
2. All their expenses for boarding, tuition, and text-books will be paid. Any other expenses they must pay for themselves.
3. They must agree to remain at school for at least one year.

They must agree to be directed in their studies by the faculty of the school to which they are sent, and by this Department.

Very respectfully,

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

DEPARTMENT OF SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, PA. April 8, 1874.

To the Mothers, Guardians, and Friends of the Soldiers' Orphans of the School at Cassville :

Herewith you will receive the furlough granted the children placed at your request in the school at Cassville. The school has been closed by legislative authority, and it has been thought best to allow the children who have been attending it, the privilege of visiting their homes and consulting with their friends before being transferred elsewhere. The State will see to the payment of the cost of travel in making the visit, for all who report promptly upon receiving the order of transfer, at the end of the time for which the furlough is granted.

The selection of schools in which these orphans may receive instruction for the remaining years until they shall be sixteen, the Superintendent will leave to your own choice, if expressed within two weeks after the receipt of this circular; but if you neglect to mention within the time named, a school to which you would prefer to have those under your care transferred, the one which is thought the most convenient or suitable will be designated here and the transfer ordered.

Enclosed you will find a copy of the Orphan School Directory, which will furnish any needed information in regard to the location, principal, and mode of reaching the several institutions now in operation as Orphan Shools.

The Superintendent expects a ready and willing compliance with his directions by all concerned, giving in return the assurance that nothing will be left undone on his part to secure the future welfare of the children.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

Deputy State Superintendents Houck and Curry will assist at several examinations in different parts of the State. The county superintendents of the counties where the examinations are held will take part in them. Several principals of State Normal Schools have promised to be present.

Mrs. E. E. Hutter, Lady Inspector, will be present at a number of the examinations, as will also, it is hoped, His Excellency, Governor Hartranft, and members of the Board of State Charities.

An exhibition of industrial skill and a military drill will form a feature of the examinations. Drawing and copy-books should be ready for inspection.

The examinations will be, as heretofore, public; and the authorities of the several schools are requested to invite, specially, the presence of superintendents, directors, and teachers of common schools, members of superintending committee, soldiers, members of the Legislature, judges of the courts, clergymen, editors, and such other citizens of the several localities as have interested themselves in the work of educating our orphan children.

The examinations in the forenoon will commence as nearly as practicable at 9, A. M., and those in the afternoon at 2, P. M. Every arrangement should be made beforehand to prevent unnecessary delay. The regulations for vacation will be the same as heretofore.

DEPARTMENT OF SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, PA., June 24, 1876.

To the Principals and Managers of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes:

Vacation this year will commence on Friday, July 21, and continue till Friday, September 1, six weeks. The time any child is absent from school after the end of vacation, will not be paid for by the State.

Owing to their engagements in connection with the Centennial Exposition, the State officers do not expect, as is their general custom, to be present at the annual examinations, and the several schools and homes are left at liberty to make their own arrangements respecting the time of holding, and the manner of conducting them. They are all advised, however, to have a public examination, to continue at least one day. The reports of the examinations will be made out as usual, and forwarded promptly to the Department.

Colonel Cornforth, at his inspection for the present quarter, will devote special attention to the work of the school-room. This, together with the papers prepared for the Exposition, will furnish the Department all needed information concerning the educational progress of the children.

Owing to the heavy expense the project is found to involve, the contemplated visit of all the orphan children in a body to the Centennial Exposition has been reluctantly abandoned.

The regulations for vacation will be the same as heretofore.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, PA., August 26, 1876.

To the Mothers, Guardians, and Friends of the Soldiers' Orphans of the School at Phillipsburg:

As the buildings of the Soldier's Orphan School, at Phillipsburg, have been destroyed by fire, the vacation of the children belonging to that school is hereby extended for four weeks, or until Friday, September 29th. During this time arrangements will be made to have the Phillipsburg children admitted into schools considered the most accessible and suitable for them. Timely notice of these arrangements will be given, so that the children can report promptly, at the end of the four weeks, at the schools to which they may be assigned.

J. P. WICKERSHAM,
Superintendent.

DEPARTMENT OF SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' SCHOOLS,
HARRISBURG, May 3, 1877.

The applications for the admission of children to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, under the late acts of the Legislature, come to the Department in great numbers illegal in form, incomplete and erroneous. These irregularities almost always lead to a tedious and sometimes annoying correspondence. Trouble to all parties concerned, it is thought, may be saved by observing the following directions:

There are two classes:

I. WHERE THE FATHER IS DECEASED. In this case it must be shown by satisfactory testimony that the cause of the father's death can be traced directly back to circumstances connected with the war—wounds, disease, or impaired constitution. On this point the law is imperative. The line of testimony must extend back from the time of death to the cause that produced it in the army, and statements and affidavits should be presented from the physicians who attended him at any time, but especially from those who attended him while in the service, directly after he left the service, and at the time of his death. These statements or affidavits should always contain the grounds or reasons for the opinions expressed. Weight will also be given to the testimony of the officers under whom he served, of the soldiers who knew him, or of responsible citizens acquainted with the case.

II. WHERE THE FATHER IS STILL LIVING, BUT IS SICK OR DISABLED. Here a competent physician must make a careful professional examination of the case, and under oath or affirmation, state the character of the disease or disability, and the circumstance which, in his judgment, caused it. If thought to be traceable to circumstances connected with the war, the opinion should be strengthened by other testimony similar to that required as above, when the father is deceased. In other words, the application must contain evidence showing that the sickness or disability was caused by the war.

In all applications it should be stated whether the father was or is in receipt of a pension. If not, why not; and if so, the number of the pension certificate should be given. The law requires all applications to be approved by the proper board of school directors. This can only be done when the board is in session, after full consideration, by a resolution placed upon the minutes. The signatures of the officers of a school board, obtained without the authority of the board, have no validity—they destroy the legality of the paper to which they are attached. Boards or directors are expected to inquire before approving an application as to its merits in all respects.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, SOLDIERS' ORPHANS,
HARRISBURG, June 11, 1877.

To the Principals and Managers of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools and Homes:

Vacation this year will commence on Saturday, July 21, and continue till Saturday, September 1, six weeks.

All the children must return to school promptly at the end of the vacation, as no charge will be allowed for absence after that time. The "thirty day rule" applies only to necessary absences during term time.

The annual examinations at the several institutions may continue as many days as those directly controlling them shall deem advisable, but the time of holding each examination must be made to include the day of visitation by the State officers named below.

The State officers, when present, will conduct the examinations, calling on such persons to assist them as they may deem proper; and it is hereby directed that, in general, they limit the examinations in the lower classes to some one branch of instruction, reserving most of the time for a more general examination of the higher classes, or the classes containing pupils soon to leave the institution.

The reports of the examinations will be made out in the same way as they were made out last year, by the officers of the several Schools and Homes, and forwarded to this Department.
